Saturday 16th March

Meet at 10.30am at Hebden Bridge Railway Station

A wonderful walk up to the ancient village of Heptonstall, visiting the grave of Sylvia Plath as we go. We will then follow old packhorse paths to join the Pennine Way. Crossing high meadow land, we will then start the route down to the pretty canal and back to vibrant Hebden Bridge with its many cafes and small shops. A wonderful place for a cuppa or a local beer to end the day.

11km, 350m ascent (7 miles, 1150 ft ascent).

Sunday 17th March

10.30am start at Hebden Bridge Railway station.

Today's walk is on the south side of the valley. The path ascends to the farmstead of Old Chamber and then follows broad tracks and path up to the local landmark and peace monument of Stoodley Pike. We then descend through fields and woods to hamlet of Household and then down to Hebden Bridge for tea and treats!

10.5km, 375m ascent (6.5 miles 1250ft ascent)
